

Vision:

To provide a space recognized as a meeting place for Evangelical believers, which also serves as a center for training, refreshing and sending those who serve throughout Montenegro for the sake of spreading the Gospel.

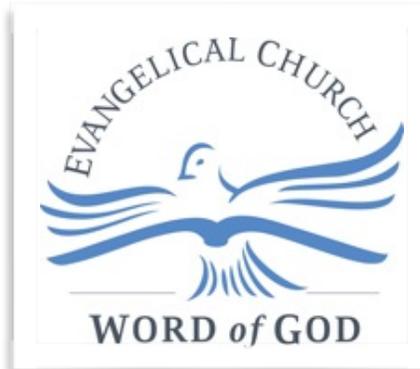

Montenegrins are sensitive regarding the visible expression of a religious meeting place.

A public, official, facility is very important because it shows transparency, dedication and stability.

With a recognizable building for Evangelical church meetings, believers would send the message to the culture that they are "serious".

The Need: Multipurpose Space

- Meeting Place for the Church.

The Evangelical Church Word of God has outgrown its current rented facility, and the growth continues.

- Expanded Children's Ministry.

Each week, as many as 13 families with a total of 32 children up to age 10 attend services.

- Shared Ministry Offices.

Word of God collaborates with several mission organizations which would have their own "corner" as office space.

- Mission center.

Dedicated to training and refreshing missionaries who are sent throughout Montenegro.

- Lodging for visiting teams.

Through the year the church welcomes short mission teams to serve in many ways. It is difficult to host teams larger than 4-5 people. With our new facility we could host up to 15 people.

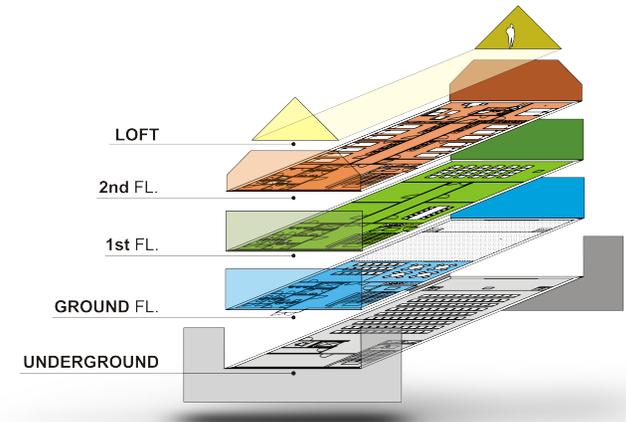

History

Before 1990, there were no Evangelical believers in Montenegro. In 1992, Vladimir Cizmanski and Zholt Bico came as missionaries to plant a church.

Early on, Evangelicals were viewed as a sect and a cult, but times changed and people became more open and curious about beliefs other than Eastern Orthodoxy.

Now, we enjoy religious freedom and want to use this opportunity to build a good reputation and be accepted within the culture.

Today, of the 300 believers in Montenegro only 60 are native Montenegrins. Of the eight registered Evangelical churches in the country only one owns their own building. Yet, even that is viewed as a family home and not as a church.

Budget & Phases

Architects in Slovakia and Estonia are donating their services to design a 4 story building of 880 square meters (9,500 sqft).

Phase I: Purchase Land

Completed! With €150,000 ($180,000) donated by an English charity, the purchase was finalized in August 2017. This big step is a great confirmation from the Lord that He is in the work.

Phase II: Drying In

Building the facilities, by professionals, to the stage of having a roof on the building.

Estimated Cost: about €150,000 ($180,000).

Phase III: Finishing

Because there are gifted craftsmen in the church, much of the labor would be donated.

Estimated cost for Materials and Labor: €200,000 ($240,000).
